

Independent Research Policy

All Investment research published by Foveal LLP ("Foveal") is independent, impartial and objective.

Foveal does not conduct any investment business on its own account or for (or with) its clients (other than the provision of research). No member of Foveal staff have any other responsibilities which could conflict with the interests of our investment research clients. Foveal does not carry out any corporate finance business; does not sell or trade securities; and has no involvement in raising capital for corporate clients.

Foveal has no other regulated or unregulated business activities which conflict with its provision of independent research.

Foveal is authorised to provide investment advice for Professional Customers only. Foveal's research is not intended for Private Customers.

Conduct of our Investment Analysts

All of Foveal's investment analysts are supervised by senior partners of the firm.

The remuneration for Foveal's analysts is not linked in any way to activities such as dealing or other activities which our customers carry out as a result of the independent research provided by the Foveal

Foveal's analysts are not permitted to participate in any activities which are or could be seen as conflicting with our provision of independent investment research to our clients. No inducements offered by issuers, or others with a material interest in the subject matter of investment research, may be accepted by our investment analysts or senior partners of the firm.

PA Dealing

Any personal account dealing which could either create or appear to create a conflict of interest that might affect the impartiality of Foveal's investment research is prohibited for all Partners and employees of Foveal. Any proposed personal account dealing by employees is subject to pre-approval by a senior partner of Foveal and no dealing which could create a conflict of interest between the employees of Foveal and our customers is permitted. Furthermore a list of prohibited securities is maintained including (but not limited to) those securities actively covered by Foveal. All outside business activities of employees are subject to prior approval by a senior partner of the firm. Foveal itself does not hold securities on its own account.

Foveal's Research

The timing and manner of publication and distribution of investment research and of the communication of its substance must be approved in advance by a senior partner of Foveal. No one outside Foveal is permitted to comment on draft investment research before publication, other than, where necessary, to verify factual information.

Certain disclaimers may be included in our research where appropriate, for example for legal reasons. Foveal's policy and procedures require investment research to be distributed in an appropriate manner.

Our investment research is published and distributed either in hard copy or on line via email. No employee may communicate the substance of any investment research, except in accordance with our policy of independence.
